

Mercer Lake

Mercer Lake is 71+/- acres located in between Alamo and Glenwood in Wheeler county. This property sports a mobile home that has been used for a hunting cabin. The home is overlooking a 4+/- acre lake that is stocked and full of fish. It also has a dock and fish cleaning house located on the pond. There is another smaller fish pond located in the northern section of the property. Along with the ponds the property has a nice stand of planted pine timber, mature hardwoods along a bottom, and some natural regeneration on an upland section.

This property is the perfect place for a retreat in the country. Hunting, fishing, and a place to stay is hard to find on a tract of this size. Come take a look and we think you will agree.
