ALAPAHA RIVER HOMEPLACE

Turner County | $200,000 | 50 acres

Property Details

50 acres of open pasture & Alapaha River front timber located on the Turner/Ben Hill County line! Whether you are looking for a small farm, hunting tract, or recreational homesite; this tract can be utilized as all three. The Alapaha River forms the back boundary line and makes for great deer, turkey, & hog hunting. The open pasture in the front would make for a beautiful homesite, being surrounded by timber, row crop fields, & bordering pasture. The pasture is currently holding horses, which would be another great use for this property for the future owner. There is a working pen as well as a round pen on the property. There entire pasture is fenced and cross fenced. Give us a call today to see it for yourself!
