LOTTS CREEK – TRACT 1

Bulloch County | $793,000 | 130 acres

Property Details

Discover the perfect blend of recreation, investment, and rural living on this 130± acre property located in southern Bulloch County, near the Bulloch–Evans County line. Lotts Creek winds along the eastern boundary of the property, creating beautiful natural scenery and providing excellent wildlife habitat. The land features a mix of mature natural hardwood and pine, along with some planted pines—ideal for hunting deer, turkey, hogs, and ducks or for future timber income. A small mobile home on-site serves as a ready-made hunting camp or weekend retreat. The property offers easy access with paved road frontage on Anderson Road. Conveniently located just 17 miles south of Statesboro, less than an hour from Savannah, and about two hours from Macon, this property combines seclusion with accessibility. Whether you're seeking a private hunting retreat, timber investment, or future homestead site, this tract offers endless potential. Additional acreage available—see the attached map for details.
